

Military Commission Is Inspecting Scene Of Miners' Warfare

Governor Small Sends General Foreman To Make Report On Situation

QUESTION MINE OFFICIALS
Future Policy Of State Will Depend On Recommendations Of Commission

By Associated Press
Herrin, Ill. — A military commission, headed by Major General Milton J. Foreman, commander of the Third Third Division, sent by Gov. Small to report on the situation in the southern Illinois coal fields, arrived at Carbondale at 4 o'clock Saturday morning and went at once to the coal fields. Upon the recommendations of the commission depends the state's future policy and whether troops will be sent into the district.

General Foreman was accompanied by five field officers from Chicago. They were met by Col. Samuel Hunter, representative of the state adjutant general's office here. The members of the commission, accompanied by newspaper men went at once by motor to the wrecked Lester mine, arriving shortly after 6 o'clock.

COAL STILL BURNING
General Foreman looked over the wreckage of the mine where a car of coal was still burning on a siding. From the ruined mine the commission was guided by Col. Hunter down the road of death where 48 hours ago the victorious mob which stormed the mine, dragged its prisoners for two miles and a half before they were shot.

The commission was shown the place where C. E. McDowell, superintendent of the Lester mine, was clubbed to death with revolvers, because, hampered by a wooden leg, he could not keep up with the marchers. They saw the woods where the bulk of the prisoners were slain.

QUESTIONS OFFICIALS
The commission is now in session here, and mine union officials and officers of Williamson county are being questioned regarding the events leading to the outbreak. It will hold meetings also in Marion, the county seat, and expects to conclude its investigations and return to Chicago Saturday night.

Col. Samuel Hunter gave the commission a detailed account of happenings preceding the slaughter from the time of his arrival in Marion last Sunday afternoon, to the time of the ghastly slaughter in the woods. States Attorney Duvy Sheriff Thaxton, Mayor Pace of Herrin and Hugh Willis, member of the local district board of the United Mine Workers are to be questioned as well as police of Herrin and Marion.

TROOPS READY
Chicago—Illinois troops held them selves in readiness Saturday prepared to leave on a moment's notice for the coal fields of "Bloody" Williamson county.

Transportation arrangements, made Friday following Gov. Small's orders to mobilize, remained in effect Saturday so an immediate departure could be made on orders to entrain from Southern Illinois.

LIMITING ENROLLMENT OF HARVARD CONSIDERED

By Associated Press
Cambridge, Mass.—The committee of 13 appointed by President Lowell of Harvard to consider ways and means to limit future enrollment at the university and settle the problem of Jewish students, began work Saturday divided into four sub-committees each entrusted with a special phase of the investigation. The report of the committee may not be presented before next summer.

CANNOT USE HEALTH FUND MONEY FOR CITY PARKS

By Associated Press
Madison—A city which appropriated funds to be used for public health work cannot later change its mind and divert the funds to be used for park purposes, the attorney general's department ruled Saturday.

The attempt of one Wisconsin city to use money raised for employment of a county nurse, to divert part of the funds for park purposes was held to be illegal.

President Asserts Leadership By Getting Senate To Consider Tariff Bill Before Soldier Compensation.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, By Post Pub. Co.
Washington — President Harding's assertion of leadership during the past week in persuading the senate not to sidetrack the tariff bill for the bonus have revived the hopes of opponents of the bonus that M. Harding's veto message will have a much more powerful effect on senatorial opinion than was at first anticipated.

There are those on capitol hill who mistakenly believe Mr. Harding will sign the bonus bill. Senator James Watson of Indiana so predicted in a public speech which has never been specifically contradicted and members of congress are assuming that the Indiana leader wouldn't have made his statement without some assurance.

WOULD VETO BONUS
Investigation shows that if the bill were to come to the president today Mr. Watson would be proved a bad prophet. For the President is determined to veto the bonus bill. This correspondent has been assured so positively on this point that all doubts may be dismissed. Mr. Harding stands squarely on the position he took when the bill was up in the house. He favors postponement of bonus if a sales tax is not enacted.

The measure pending in the senate doesn't provide a sales tax and is practically the same as the measure which passed house.

FAVORS PRINCIPLE
Mr. Harding wants it understood that he isn't opposed to the bonus in principle. He favors compensation to the soldiers and sailors who fought in the late war but insists the government finances aren't in shape for an expenditure on the bonus.

Representatives of the ex-service men know, however, that if they lose their fight now they will have scant chance for another year or two to re-voice the issue successfully for a deficit of $340,000,000 which may grow to a half billion dollars stares the government in the face for the fiscal year beginning on the first of next month and ending June 30, 1923.

QUESTION OF RAISING MONEY
The question finally will resolve itself into a battle of words between the president and sponsors of the bonus largely on the question of how the money is being raised and while the advocates of a bonus feel that today they have enough votes to pass the bonus over Mr. Harding's veto they are not of course able to calculate the psychological effect of positive statements from Mr. Harding in that veto message.

For the moment Mr. Harding has had his way in keeping the bonus from being given right of way in the senate. It was thought the bonus forces were strong enough to compel immediate action. They have a majority which is sufficient to pass the bill when it does come up for vote but Mr. Harding's tactics have raised considerable doubt as to the necessary two-thirds to pass the measure over a presidential veto. There are many changes possible between now and the time of the veto message but the set back which the advocates of the bonus got this week has strengthened Mr. Harding's determination to fight the passage of the measure in its present form.

CITIES HAVE CONTROL OF STATE ROADS IN LIMITS

By Associated Press
Madison—Municipalities and not the state or counties have control over state trunk highways within the limits of cities, F. E. Bump, assistant attorney general advised the highway commission Saturday.

He said that neither the state nor the counties could prescribe the kind of silent policemen that are used on highways running through cities. Any liability incurred should it be proved that the silent policemen were the cause of an accident would be against the municipality. County or state commissions have no authority over the use of state trunk highways except outside city limits.

HIGHWAY 15 TO MILWAUKEE IS IN POOR CONDITION

Appleton Drivers Suggest Travelers Use Routes 114 and 57 For Trip

"Where shall we go Sunday and which way shall it be?" These questions will be heard again in more than one automobile owner's home this weekend especially in view of the damage done to some of the roads by the recent floods.

The motorist who will travel on roads within the county will find that practically all are passable. Bridges that were washed out are replaced with temporary ones. Nevertheless travel will be somewhat impeded on some roads where it is without a cure. Town clay roads are likely to be quite rough due to the deep ruts caused by heavy motor trucks soon after the rains.

Travelers on state trunk highways will also find conditions different from what they were two weeks ago. Inquiries at garages and among travelers have brought out a few points that may be of help to the Sunday motorist.

15 IS IN BAD SHAPE

As to the best road to Milwaukee, the unanimous choice is highway 114 and 57 which is through Chilton and Peshigo. Road highway 15, if you have a bad temper, is what they say. That detour between Oshkosh and Fond du Lac is said to be worse than ever since the rain storms. There has been no end of complaint about the upkeep on the detour of this highway. There are three other detours at Lomira, Theresa and Allenton, all none of the best and quite long. By branching off highway 15 from Fond du Lac to 55 is no better if not worse. There is a chain of detours extending the length of nearly two counties. But on highway 57 the motorist will encounter only two minor and short detours at Fredonia and at Cedarburg. It is the shortest route.

The present common traveled road to Madison is by way of highway 15 to Fond du Lac and then 51 through Beaver Dam. There is a long detour from Seven Mile Creek to beyond Waupun and a few shorter ones at Sun Prairie all reported to be in fair condition. One cannot avoid the Oshkosh Fond du Lac detour by traveling on 15 and 49 because the road between Fremont and Wauwatosa is closed.

The road to Marshfield is by way of New London and Waupaca, thus steering clear of Wauwatosa and Fremont where the road, always bad after wet season, is now closed to travel.

The best way to Antico is to take 47 as far as Shawano then 16 and finally 39, for 47 beyond Shawano is bad in wet seasons. There is a three mile stretch of freshly graded road north of Black Creek over which travel will be somewhat improved.

The road to Sturgeon Bay and beyond has detours where highways 54 and 75 join about 10 miles east of Green Bay and other just before and out of Sturgeon Bay.

The Appleton Marinette road, highway 15, has a stretch of road near Oconto that is freshly graded or gravel.

GERMAN VETERAN VISITS APPLETON

Fred Holtz Says His Countrymen Have No Animosity for America

Fred Holtz of Germany arrived in Appleton Friday from his native country and is visiting at the home of his cousin, Mrs. Henry Schulze, 1105 Loran st. He intends to make his home in the United States and may decide to locate in Appleton. He has a wife and three daughters whom he intends to send for later.

Mr. Holtz was a butcher prior to the war in which he served from start to the finish and was wounded several times. He said his people harbor no ill feeling against either France or the United States, who were drawn into the conflict. It was England that Germany was after he said.

Mr. Holtz is particularly well informed in regard to the United States participation in the war. He knows the date of when our first soldiers landed on European soil the part they took in the fighting and those that followed them and the number of United States soldiers that were on the way to Europe when the armistice was signed and much other historical matter concerning them which the average American cannot recall.

Regarding the holding up of American tourists Mr. Holtz says it is being done in all parts of Germany. Every tourist that visits Europe is supposed to have money and his countrymen feel that if they don't get it other countries will. Mr. Holtz speaks English fluently.

KNITTERS ASSOCIATION CONVENES AT NEENAH

One hundred and fifty members of the Knitting Outdoor Manufacturers association of the central west held a two day session in Neenah Friday and Saturday. All states in the central west were represented, many of these present making the trip by automobile.

A business session was held Friday afternoon. A banquet at Valley Inn was a feature of the day's events. A picnic for the visiting manufacturers was held Saturday afternoon at Riverside park.

Matters of interest to members of the association were discussed at the business session and at the banquet. The program and entertainment of the visitors was in charge of officials of the Jersid Knitting Co., Neenah.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS TAKE ANNUAL VACATION

This is the vacation session for rural carriers. Robert Rohm carrier on route 3 returned to work Saturday after an absence of two weeks. His place was taken by his daughter, Miss Margaret Rohm. Arnold I. Fetting carrier on route 6 returned Saturday and relieved Joseph Weyenberg, substitute carrier. George Gummer is also carrying again on route 3. Lad Of 5 Years Shows Dad Few Fishing Tricks

This is the story of a little boy and some big fish. His daddy who is lots bigger takes the little fellow out into the country and because he has nothing else to do he initiates him in the mysteries of angling. An old pole left there a year ago is brought forth, equipped with some binder twine for a line, a cork for a bobber, a key for a sinker and it is believed there was also a hook. Son tests his prowess on the bank of a tiny creek. He makes the acquaintance of four bullheads which he adopts as his very own. The lad's name is Melvin Junge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Junge, 984 Richmond st., and is 5 years old. The fishing place? Ah, but that's a secret.

YOUTH BREAKS ARM IN FALL WHILE JUMPING

Arthur Blount, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Blount, 1248 Richmond st., fell on his arm and broke one of the bones Thursday night. The broken arm will spoil his trip to cherry pickers camp to which he had been looking forward. This is the second boy to break his arm by jumping this week. The other boy is George Brill, also aged 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brill.

ASK APPLETON TO JOIN VALLEY IN RAIL RATE FIGHT

Protest Is Made Against Schedules Which Increase Freight Rates July 15

Support of Fox River valley commercial organizations in an effort to forestall freight rate increases to be put into effect July 15 by the Central Freight association of Chicago, will be one of the important issues to be considered at a joint meeting of the retail trades and industrial and transportation committees of the chamber of commerce to be held at 9:30 Tuesday morning.

R. J. Hodson, traffic manager of Oshkosh Association of Commerce, has called attention to the new schedule prepared by the Chicago body. It contains 350 tariffs, of which 300 are increases, 30 decreases and the rest are unchanged. The entire state outside of Milwaukee is affected.

Manufacturers of the valley are puzzled over the announcement made by the Chicago body that the new rates are to go into effect July 15, while the interstate commerce commission has announced a general decrease for July 1. This conflict has not been explained.

Mr. Hodson has prepared formal protests addressed to the interstate commerce commission and is asking valley organizations to assist in the fight to block the increases.

There also will be discussion of the proposed industrial and agricultural exhibit to be held here in the fall. It is possible that the machinery may be started for the event.

REID MURRAY TO SPEAK AT PICNIC

Development of Guernsey Herds Will Be Theme of Address at Guernsey Outing

Reid F. Murray, Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders association, is to be the speaker at the annual summer picnic of the Fox River Valley Guernsey Breeders association to be held at the Charles Wussow farm, 5 1/2 miles from Black Creek, next Thursday. His subject will be "Developing Guernsey Herds."

Plenty of amusements are planned, but perhaps nothing will create more excitement than two tug-war matches to be staged between Greenville and Cicero. One will be for men above 20 years and another for those below 20.

Guernsey milk and Guernsey ice cream will be served on the grounds.

POULTRY BREEDERS MEET IN OSHKOSH

Pleasure will be combined with business at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Poultry Breeders association at Oshkosh July 23 and 24. The meetings will be held in the municipal clubhouse. Entertainment includes a ride on the Valley Queen with music and dancing Sunday morning; a baseball game between teams composed of visitors, a tug-of-war and release of 50 Milwaukee carrier pigeons for flight Sunday afternoon; a stereopticon entertainment with addresses by Frank Platt, Theodore Hale and H. W. Lackie Sunday evening. Monday morning will be given over to business until 11 o'clock when there will be a ride to the Radford farms where lunch will be served. After the business session Monday afternoon a banquet will be held in the clubhouse at 7 o'clock.

LOCAL MOOSE WILL SEE DEDICATION

Twenty-five members of the local lodge of Moose are planning to attend the thirty-fourth annual convention of the order at Mooseheart, Ill., Aug. 20 to 26. The delegates are F. J. Rooney, R. T. McGillan and Robert Abendroth.

A feature of the convention will be the presentation of diplomas to the graduating class of Mooseheart by President Harding, who will be the guest of honor at the convention.

The Wisconsin memorial building erected in memory of Moose soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice in the war will be dedicated during convention week.

Eleven hundred orphaned children are being taken care of at Mooseheart. When the buildings now under construction are completed the order will be able to handle 2,000.

OCTONAGON PULPMILL NOW HAS NEW OWNERS

The unfinished pulp mill at Ontonagon has been sold by a referee in bankruptcy in conformity with a United States court decree. The sale was made at Ontonagon and the property which cost more than $750,000 was bid in by W. B. Van Allen of Carthage, N. Y., on behalf of New York and New England creditors of the Northern Fibre Co., its original owner, many of whom are stockholders of the Northern Paper Mills Co. of Green Bay of which Judson G. Rosebush of Appleton is one of the officers. The price was $102,000. The plans of the new owners have not been announced, but it is understood there is a possibility of it being converted into a paper mill.

The City's Business

POOR COMMISSIONER

(This is the seventh of a series of articles describing the duties and responsibilities of Appleton city officials)

By L. A. Fisher
Every town, village, or city has its poor and is both morally and legally bound to care for those who are without means or support. To look after its public charges and do it systematically, a city creates the office of poor commissioner and selects a man who will give his full time to the work. Such a man is appointed annually by the common council at its first meeting after the city elections.

The commissioner of the poor in Appleton has a double duty to perform by reason of the fact that this city maintains its own poor farm. Although the direct oversight of the city home is left to a keeper and a matron also appointed yearly by the council, the poor commissioner is held responsible for its management. He makes regular inspections of the home, keeps records of its conditions and affairs and makes reports to the council's poor committee. He is its financial agent and pays the salaries and purchases the food, clothing, fuel, light, feed and other necessities.

FEW PERSONS HERE
The poor farm is a 11 acre tract of land situated on Spencer rd. It is equipped with a barn, sheds, wagon, implements, horse, cows and chickens. It is worked by the keeper and the inmates who are able to work. Most of them however, are invalids and a part of the city home is reserved as a hospital for them. The home has accommodations for 40, but never has more than half that number on hand, for there are few actual paupers in Appleton.

The other half of the commissioner's duties is to look after the wants of families and individuals who, though not deprived of shelter, are temporarily dependent upon the city for relief. When a request for aid is brought to his attention, he goes to the home and investigates the need before aid is granted. The case may be that of a poor widow with or without children, that of a family in which the father is unable to obtain employment, or of a destitute invalid. In the latter case, the sick person is turned over to the care of the city physician. Another poor person may be seriously burdened by funeral expenses incurred by a death in the family. He will apply to the commissioner and, if found worthy, will receive relief. The winter time when a premium is placed on fuel, rent and extra clothing and labor goes begging is the hardest season for the poor as well as the busiest for the poor commissioner.

GET SOME MONEY BACK

Last year the commissioner of the poor paid $2,103.73 for outside relief and $1,888.08 for the management of the city home. For boarding non-resident public charges the city is reimbursed by the towns and villages in which they were residents. Of the 44 families to receive outside relief, eighteen were recurrent cases, seventeen new cases and eight non-resident cases. There were 30 men, 40 women and 134 children. Their social status was as follows: 27 married, 4 single, 8 widows, 2 widowers and 3 abandoned wives. Considering

POOR COMMISSIONERS TO HOLD CONVENTION

The Wisconsin Association for Public Relief will hold its annual meeting in Fond du Lac July 6 and 7. J. G. Pfeil, poor commissioner of Appleton, expects to attend on one of the days. The sessions will be held in the Community building. Addresses will be made by President F. W. Spindler, head of the Milwaukee poor department, Fred Duwe, treasurer of the association and poor commissioner of Fond du Lac and others.

their nationality, 34 families were American, 5 German, 2 Holland, 1 Austrian, 1 English and 1 Russian. It is interesting also to note the cause of their dependency: Desertion by husband 3, aged, sick and infirm, 6, blind, 1 unemployment, 16, head of the family in jail, 2, widows with families 44. At the city home the nationality of the inmates is as follows: 6 Americans, 7 German, 1 Danish. The average number of persons kept was 12 and the average yearly cost of the support of each, $157.34.

J. G. Pfeil is the holder of the office described. He has served since 1918. In addition to being commissioner of the poor, he is also the city truancy officer.

Cribs for Canal Bank Foundations Are Being Built at Kaukauna

Reconstruction of the 600-foot washed out portion of the canal bank at Locks No. 2, Little Rapids, is now underway and navigation is expected to resume in about six weeks. Navigation between Green Bay and Appleton has been at a standstill since the washout on the Fox river during the rainstorm of June 10. Coal shipments are made by rail.

Cribs are being built at Kaukauna from where they will be floated to the canal and sunk, making a foundation for the earthwork. The upper gate of the locks, which was carried away by the torrent, will be restored in a few days. It is expected that 75 to 100 men soon will be at work repairing the damage. A tug, scows and probably a dredge will be used in the work. United States engineers estimate the cost at about $60,000.

Travel in Busses
Appleton Messenger and Mixed Choir is planning to go to the annual sengerfest at Sheboygan next month in motor busses because of undesirable train service. Officers of the singing societies endeavored to secure special train service but failed and as there is no night service from Sheboygan to Appleton, decided to utilize busses.

Gets Flock Of Chicks From "Stray" Eggs

"You never can tell." That's just what Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haferbecker of the town of Grand Chute said after a successful experiment with a number of stray eggs.

While Mr. Haferbecker was wondering whether the cackling hens were laying or lying and Mrs. Haferbecker was debating if they were sitting or eating, they both agreed that they were not getting the proper number of eggs to conform with the amount of cackle. The hens were traced to their respective retreats and there were found four dozen eggs.

Loath to leave the eggs there for fear they would rot, and loath to open them lest chicks be inside the farmers placed the eggs under four clucks. Two days ago the hatch yielded 42 chicks.

25 Are Paroled
Twenty-five of the forty-five inmates of the reformatory at Green Bay whose petitions for parole were considered by the state board of control won their freedom. This is the largest number paroled at one time in many years. Employment must be found for the inmates before they are allowed to leave.

Why Buick Cushions "Ride Easy"

Buick cushions are comfortable on all roads because of their "double-deck" springs and resilient hair pads. The upper springs, which are light and easy-acting, yield to the slightest road irregularity. The lower springs are larger and stiffer. They come into play on rough country roads, carrying the passenger in comfort over bumps which cause the ordinary seat to "strike bottom".

Between the springs and the French-plaited leather upholstery are two thick, yielding pads of interlaced hair which positively prevent "lumping".

In Buick seat cushions, as in every other part of the car, is built the quality which has made Buick cars the standard of comparison.

HOW FAR HAVE WE GONE?

The labor massacre in Illinois reads like incidents of that kind which occurred in the early history of our country when the Indian resisted the occupation of his country by the white man. We should not wonder at butcheries which take place in Russia or in Turkey, we should not profess inability to understand the furious internal strife in Ireland, when such things occur in the heart of America. The United States has gone a long way in the development of free government and democratic institutions. It has progressed far along the lines of material advancement, of invention, of science. Its achievements in commerce and finance have led the world, but with all its boasted civilization it has made only limited headway in the fundamentals of civilization. Its social problems are still unsolved, and they are the gravest of all, graver even than the political questions which had to be dealt with in the early years of the nation.

We may not realize it, but our national life is threatened by our indifference toward our social problems or our inability to solve them. When we are powerless to prevent wholesale assassination and when industrial conflicts result in murderous civil war we may well begin to look to the security of American institutions. It will not do for those at either extreme of this conflict to say that the other is wholly wrong and must be suppressed. The responsibility is mutual, the causes, the blame, the wrongs, are mutual. Both must make concessions, and they must be concessions such as will remove the cause of strife instead of merely salving it over.

MEXICO'S FINANCIAL ADJUSTMENT

The plan of Adolfo de la Huerta, finance minister, to pay $700,000,000 of external debts of the Mexican republic will go far toward restoring confidence in his nation's government. Furthermore, it will create an impression that the government is stable.

In natural resources Mexico is probably the richest country in the world. It should be one of the most prosperous. If it has suppressed partisan strife and established a solid government, the nation should be happy.

The people of the United States hopes that Mexico really has found a basis for lasting peace and prosperity, and that the era of greed, autocracy and revolution is ended.

The misfortune of Mexico resulted from rapacity. Leaders who were able to secure large enough followings tried to upset one administration after another in order to share in the spoils. The land's richness was its curse. Meanwhile the masses of the people were kept in ignorance.

The United States will rejoice in having a peaceful, happy and prosperous neighbor south of the Rio Grande, and it is to be hoped the political situation there will result in a reestablishment of diplomatic relations in the near future.

CHINESE UNITY

Out of the Chinese civil war there may come unity, after all, though not exactly of the kind expected. First Gen. Chang, the Manchurian dictator, was frustrated in his efforts to take Peking and dominate the northern republic. Then Gen. Wu, who administered his defeat, called upon President Sun of the southern republic, at Canton, to eliminate himself. Sun refused, and so Gen. Wu proceeded himself to do the eliminating. He has accomplished it with the aid of Gen. Chen, one of Sun's former supporters. Sun is a relative, and Gen. Wu is calling upon the members of the Anti-China parliament to assemble in Peking, for the re-establishment of a constitutional government with authority over the whole country.

Most Americans, influenced by the likable qualities of Sun Yat Sen and the progressive work he has done at Canton, would rather have seen him at the head of a reunited nation than the figurehead now presiding at Peking, or Gen. Wu who dominates him. But President Sun made the fatal mistake of picking the wrong horse, in the person of Gen. Chang, when the recent fighting started in North China. Naturally Gen. Wu cannot forgive him for that. And as matters stand, the situation may work out fairly well.

If real unity can be achieved, under some leader who is not too reactionary or too subservient to Japanese influence, China may slowly recover and take her place among powerful modern nations.

AMERICA LEADS IN GOLF

It is no small distinction that comes to the United States from the victory of three American players in the open British golf championship. The men who won this victory for America, and who now head the great golfers of the world, are Hagen Barnes and Hutchinson, all well known players. Probably golf affords the severest as well as the finest test of any athletic contest. It is a supreme test not only of skill, but of character, nerve and stability, in the most difficult game in the world.

Practically every other trial in superiority in athletics takes place under conditions of excitement, where that excitement is a stimulation and help to the player. With golf it is the contrary. A player must absolutely keep his self-control and be immune to all exciting surroundings, and this in the midst of a great gallery of spectators, tense silence and the knowledge that every stroke means a reputation or loss of reputation throughout the world.

It is a high credit to America that it holds the lead in this greatest of all tests. We have come up rapidly as a nation of golfers and in the future promise not only to hold our own with the Scotch and English, who originated the game, but against all countries.

A SANE TARIFF PROPOSAL

Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, a member of the senate finance committee, opposes the present tariff making system, of both Republicans and Democrats, as "illogical and unscientific," and has offered an amendment providing machinery for a scientific tariff based on the differences between conversion costs in this country and abroad. Under the terms of the amendment the tariff commission would be enlarged to ten members, with salaries of $12,000 each, and life tenures of office. Not later than December 1, 1923, the commission is ordered to report to congress the results of investigations into conversion cost differences, and to recommend the rates of duty necessary. The amendment provides a fund of $1,000,000 to carry out the extended duties of the commission. Senator Frelinghuysen in support of his amendment said:

The tariff bill now under consideration is a purely political measure. I say this although I did my share as a member of the Finance Committee in framing it. I hold that it is not scientific because of the system on which it is based. This system is not the product of either the Republican or Democratic parties. It is the outcome of past conditions when a scientific finding of facts was not regarded as an essential in tariff-making. Its purpose is to lay an amendment to the present measure to remove the defects of that system and attempt to set up machinery looking to the establishment in the future of scientific tariff schedules.

Primarily tariff making affects trade and commerce. It is therefore a matter of economic, not of political, importance. The determination of rates is properly a subject for expert study and consideration. It ought to be in the hands of a sufficient body of men equipped to give it specialized study, and having the authority to make exhaustive investigation and report to this congress scientific conclusions. The amendment which I propose would take the tariff commission out of politics by providing legislation setting up the machinery for a scientific system of learning tariff duties, for which purpose this amendment is offered.

The public mind is now thoroughly awake to the abuses of this system of tariff making and to the necessity for reform, and this awakening should be a warning to all of us to take the tariff out of politics by providing legislation setting up the machinery for a scientific system of learning tariff duties, for which purpose this amendment is offered.

This is the first real sanity to come out of congress on the tariff since the revision measure has been before it. If congress is open to Senator Frelinghuysen's proposal and proceeds to take the tariff out of politics it will have the thanks and appreciation of the entire country, regardless of party. Its duty to do this is beyond argument. Our system of tariff making is obsolete, reactionary and altogether absurd.

THE WEIGHT LOST IN FASTING

Candor compels me to state that discretion deters me from saying that fully half the loss of weight one notes in the first day or two of a rigidly prescribed diet, such, for instance, as the W. K. Karell diversion, is just water. Always suspected this, but I have never before publicly acknowledged it. A man from Malta voluntarily underwent a 31 day fast under the constant observation of Professor E. G. Benedict, the famous nutrition authority, and lost 29 pounds in weight, a little over one-fifth of his total weight. The most rapid loss being on the first day, about two pounds, but after that he settled down to something like a pound a day. This probably represents a fair average. It is sad to contemplate, isn't it, fat folks? Just think, only twenty-nine pounds lost in a whole month of total fasting, and yet, dear me, so many fat folks yearn to lose about twenty pounds a week just by eating only what they fondly imagine are "non-fat-producing foods," whatever they may be. But there's a wee bit of consolation which I am happy to offer. This professional faster merely fasted; he didn't try to help the reduction of weight by indulging in any considerable amount of daily exercise. Exercise is a mighty power way to reduce weight, as those sane of antiquity can tell the world; but exercise combined with suitable restriction of diet is fairly effective, as thousands of equally enthusiastic Karellers can testify.

Rather more than seven out of every ten pounds of normal body weight is water anyhow. In persons who consume an excess of the carbohydrates, particularly candy, sugar and other sweets, yet do not indulge in the considerable amount of vigorous play or muscular exercise daily which is necessary to burn up so much sugar as it becomes a form of sugar bogged glycerol or fat, the amount of water stored in the body, the amount of blood sugar and water stored in the body, and the physical and mental state suffers from overhydration—there is a loss of condition, mental impotence, a tendency to quick muscular fatigue, a sickly pale skin, peevishness and I don't know what all. Older children eating too much ice cream candy, cake and cereals of the denatured class often present this hydropic. Sugar retains too much water in all the tissues.

This thirty-one day faster declined to make muscular effort while he was fasting. It is a fact that one may fast for one or two days with considerable comfort if one remains completely at rest in bed, and sensibly if one has some means of artificial warmth in bed. But try the same fast, or even one half as long, while you keep up and about, and it is not so easy. On the thirty-first day of the fast, however, the man from Malta indicated his good spirits and vigor by dancing, singing, talking and jesting freely and walking about. He was eager to go on fasting for forty days, but the fast was broken because the nutrition laboratory staff had become exhausted by the tremendous amount of work involved in the many scientific observations made. Through the fact the man experienced no particular discomfort and was in no wise endangered. Yet your average overfed man or woman is frightened at the thought of a mere meal or two skipped for health's sake.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Ground itch
Can you tell me what "ground itch" is and what will cure it? I am a boy 13 years old and have been spending several weeks with my relatives near Atlanta. Please don't use such big words that I can't pronounce and merely cry when I come across them. G. S.

Answer—A condition of the feet, especially the skin between the toes, in persons who go barefoot, is called "ground itch" and "dewitch" and "toe itch" in the southern states. This is caused by invasion of the skin of the feet by the larvae of bookworms present in the polluted soil. Subsequently the parasites reach the wall of the small intestines and the victim becomes a bookworm host. These are the smallest words I can find to use. Physicians of experience have recommended rubbing into the affected skin an ointment such as this, night and morning.

Salicylic acid 20 grains
Benzol 4 ounces
Petroleum 2 ounces
Lanolin 6 drams
There are many regions in the south where the inhabitants are still very primitive about disposal of human excrement and where the soil is consequently widely polluted with bookworms. It is therefore dangerous to go barefoot in such regions.

Pleuro-Pneumonia and Double Pneumonia

We often hear folks speak of plural and double pneumonia but never see the terms in print. Is this a misunderstanding of the word pleuro pneumonia? C. A. G.

Answer—Yes. Pleuro pneumonia is another name for lobar pneumonia, lung fever. The pleura (membrane covering the lungs and lining the chest wall) is inflamed (pleurisy) along with the lung as a rule, and hence the term pleuro pneumonia. Lobar refers to the fact that generally one or more entire lobes of the lung or lungs are involved (the right lung has three lobes, the left two). The term lung fever, an older name, refers to the more important feature of the illness, namely, the fever. Sometimes a lobe on the right, and at times on the left side are involved in pleuro pneumonia and that would be called double pneumonia.

(Title Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

ONE LAW FOR LAND AND ANOTHER FOR SEA

The controversy between Adolphus Busch 3rd and Albert Lasker, Chairman of the shipping board over the serving of liquors on board the vessels outside the three mile limit has been the editorial discussion in nearly every newspaper in the country. The majority of the editors seem to lean to the view that if the Volstead act applies on land it should equally be made to apply at sea if a privileged class is not to be created. However there are many papers which sympathize with the Lasker position, that if the Merchant Marine is to be maintained, so that it will be useful in time of war as fleet auxiliaries and the like, an exception must be made. The papers agree that the whole matter is "up to Congress" and that action must be expected from that quarter.

"America cannot," the Boston TRAVELER declares, "in fairness to its citizens or to its own good name, continue 'dry on land and wet on ship board,' because the Cleveland DEALER continues, 'The shipping board is off on the wrong track on this matter. It is hardly conceivable that the sale of liquor abroad is essential to the success of the merchant marine. But if that should prove to be true the merchant marine rather than prohibition should be sacrificed.' No matter how the case is studied, the Springfield REPUBLICAN suggests 'the moral aspect of the case is the worst imaginable for no government can seek financial excuses for violating its own laws without polluting itself as the rankest of hypocrites whenever it throws its citizens into the same offense.' But, after all, the Brooklyn EAGLE points out, this question was started in Congress and it is Congress which must act because 'Congress made millions of Americans hypocrites and has remained indifferent to the result of its handiwork. With the willing aid of the expedient Mr. Lasker Congress has made the government a flagrant bootlegger. But will the nation continue indefinitely to relish the shameful joke?'

WHEN TCHITCHERIN VISITED D'ANNUNZIO

Milan—An interesting description of Tschitcherine's visit to d'Annunzio is given in the SECOLO. It says: "Before leaving Genoa, Tschitcherine desired to visit the great poet d'Annunzio and bring him the greetings of the Russian people who had not forgotten the noble sentiments so often expressed by the poet in words of purest solidarity in the defense of suffering Russia, at a time when Europe's attitude towards this country was very different to what it is at the present time. Besides this, soon after the foundation of the Italian republic at Cambray, when Gabriel d'Annunzio was ruling the destinies of Fiume, he desired ardently to start economic and commercial relations with Russia and send a mission to Odessa. Events did not allow of his great necessity to which the policy of plain being carried out but his wonderful foresight made him realize the our country is today giving its attention."

"D'Annunzio responded with great pleasure to the wish of the Russian statesman, also because he wanted to know them personally, as he much appreciates his subtle intellect and the work which he is carrying on with such shrewdness for the reconstruction of his country. 'Tschitcherine has also on many occasions expressed sincere sympathy and affection for the Italian people and nation.'"

"He started early in the morning, at five, in a motor car from Genoa where he was met by Eugenio Cosulich representing the authorities. 'The motor in which Tschitcherine was seated was preceded by another with an escort of legionnaires, and followed by a third with police and private detectives to ensure the safety of the Russian Soviet Commissioner.'"

"All possible precautions had been taken by the authorities. The roads between Brescia and Gardone were patrolled by soldiers and police, as well as all the ways of access to the villa. Cosulich."

"The meeting between Tschitcherine and d'Annunzio was most cordial. 'On the pillars which had been placed in the garden was hoisted the flag of the Regency of Carnaro, purple stitched with gold, as eternal symbol of liberty. Mounted troops were on guard near the villa and at the door of the apartment which had been prepared for the honored guest.'"

"Tschitcherine stayed to lunch and remained the night in the villa. Of course the conversations between the two were without witnesses, but we are in a position to state the discussed the Russian revolution, the working of communist rule, new Russian legislation, the organization of the army, and the new economic-social system following the failure of the communist idealism."

"They also discussed the Constitution of Carnaro, which containing new courageous principles is taking the course which Russia will take when she has recovered her equilibrium. 'D'Annunzio expressed his deep pity for the heroic Russian people, who, in looking for a better social order, had sacrificed themselves to the most terrible sufferings to discover the road of the future.'"

"In course of the interesting conversation, problems were discussed with regard to relations between Russia and Italy which d'Annunzio believes should become more and more united. 'It being in Italy's interest of this great country, and help to save this huge mass of people from its present terrible misery, as sooner or later, it would undoubtedly exercise a splendid and decisive influence in the life and progress of the world.'"

Age Of Specialists

Brill, leading American psychoanalyst, "kicks" one famous list of questions which Inventor Edison submits to applicants for jobs. To answer all the Edison questions correctly, says Brill, would reveal only a general smattering of knowledge—superficial brain hash—instead of thoroughness in any one thing. Maybe so, maybe not. A question revealing that an applicant has baseball-phobia might be sufficient proof that this mind would seldom be on his work.

Brill is right about thoroughness, in this age when success comes only by specialization. That's the chief trouble with our government, forever being turned over to new experimenters instead of specialists.

HYPOCRITES

In Philadelphia, police hold a man, charged with being intoxicated when driving an auto that killed a woman. The defendant makes sweeping denials—alcoholic breath due to medicinal ataxia, etc.

Many readers will snort or chuckle when they learn that the defendant is a prohibition lecturer, a coincidence apt, unfairly to condemn him without a hearing, in the popular mind.

You have heard of prohibitionists making speeches against Demon Rum when so drunk they could hardly stand up. Hypocrites? No. A drunkard is an expert on drunkenness. He knows what he is talking about, something that cannot be said of the prohibitionist who never had "the snakes."

TRAPS

Be careful about buying stock in new radio corporations. Some of them, glutting the market with "stuffs" made to sell and not of much use, will cause investors to lose millions.

This warning comes from Alexander Eismann, president of National Chamber of Commerce. The radio investment craze starts out surprisingly like the big boom in

More autos were manufactured last month than in the entire first 14 years after the auto was invented.

With reasonably good health, you will live to see the day when the same will be said of airplanes.

By 1940 America will have more flying machines than it now has autos.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information! The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to solve domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

- Q. What salary do the members of the House of Lords in Great Britain draw? W. C.
- A. The members of the House of Lords are unpaid.
- Q. How much water does a person consume daily? R. M. G.
- A. The average amount of water consumed daily per individual is about four pounds, much more than the dry weight of all the other foods combined.
- Q. What state has most of the high mountain peaks? G. A. R.
- A. Forty-two of the 55 highest peaks in the United States are in Colorado.
- Q. What is the difference between hard wood and soft wood? R. S.
- A. Hard wood is wood in which the cells have thick walls and are closely packed together. Soft wood has large cells with thin walls.
- Q. What part of the world was first called America? A. M. D.
- A. The name America was first applied to Central Brazil, in honor of Amerigo Vesputti, who claimed its discovery. It was first applied to the known western world by Mercator, the geographer, in 1541.
- Q. Who appoints the employees in a third class post office? I. E. P.
- A. The Post Office Department says that the employees in a third class office are personal appointees of the postmaster who is at liberty to appoint anyone over 16 years of age who is competent to take the oath of office. The postmaster may require bonds, but the Department does not, except in the case of an assistant postmaster.
- Q. I have a mountain home which is surrounded by cedar trees. Can you suggest an Indian name for it? L. F.
- A. Aoreachic, meaning "where there is mountain cedar," would be appropriate.
- Q. What does W. C. 3 mean on an address in London? J. H.
- A. W. C. 3 on London mail is the post office address. W. C. stands for West City. Three is the number of the postoffice.
- Q. Who were the comprachicos? H. E. B.
- A. Comprachicos was the name adopted by a nomadic affiliation famous in the seventeenth century in Europe. This band of persons made a practice of buying and selling children. These children were by means of surgical operations deformed and disfigured so that they assumed certain peculiarities, which provided the humor demanded at the time. The organization had its own laws, oaths and formulas, and was found principally in England, Spain, France and Germany. The name is a compound Spanish word meaning buyers of little ones.
- Q. What are the capacities of the largest and smallest oil refineries in the United States? H. E. B.
- A. The smallest oil refinery is in Ohio and has a capacity of five barrels a week. The largest plant is in New Jersey and it can refine 180,000 barrels daily.

PHONE EXCHANGE AT GREENVILLE TO BE DISCONTINUED

Telephone Company Is Making
Survey of Conditions in Neighboring Town

The Wisconsin Telephone company is making a survey of the territory covered by the Greenville telephone exchange with a view of ascertaining the preferences of patrons for either the Appleton or Hortonville exchange.

The Greenville exchange is soon to be discontinued, as it has not been a paying proposition since its installation, the company declares. Each year the exchange had a deficit and the past year it was so great as to make its removal a necessity, it is charged.

At a hearing held before the Wisconsin railroad rate commission in Appleton several weeks ago, Greenville patrons expressed the desire to retain the Greenville exchange or to have direct connection with Appleton. The connection rate at Hortonville is somewhat lower than that of the Appleton exchange, but the patrons maintain that they do most of their business in Appleton and have more occasion to telephone to Appleton than to Hortonville. The Appleton rate is $2.25 per month for patrons within the six-mile limit and 25 cents a month for every mile or fraction thereof beyond the limit. The Hortonville rate is but $2 a month in the six-mile radius and 25 cents a mile beyond.

The survey now made probably will lead to the establishment of a new line of demarcation which the company hopes to place in order to satisfy the greatest number of people.

STATE BUSINESS NOW IMPROVING

Milwaukee—The business improvement barometer in five Wisconsin cities has taken a leap upward where electric, gas and telephone companies announced in the last week expenditures of approximately $150,000 for improvements, of which were:

Stevens Point—Sixty-seven of copper wire will be strung between Wausau and Mosinee and between Stevens Point and Junction to permit carriage of a greater load to accommodate the increased demand of industries.

In Wausau a new exchange costing $20,300 is to be installed.

A new toll section is being added to the Merrill telephone system and along with other facilities will cost $4,670.

For the construction of a considerable portion of its dam, the Peshigo Electric company will spend $60,000, which will also cover the building of an addition to the power house and other incidental improvements.

At Madison a large chimney is being erected by the electric company at its generating plant, which is to cost $14,000.

BIG DEMAND FOR RURAL TEACHERS

By Associated Press
Racine—The Racine-Kenosha county training school commenting on the demand for trained rural school teachers said:

"No other spring has brought so many urgent requests for 'excellent teachers' The Racine county superintendent says she is besieged with that request."

Graduates from the training school are signing contracts at $100 to $120 a month. The spirit of Racine county in demanding better qualified teachers for country boys and girls is reflected in many other counties of the state, according to officials of the Wisconsin Teacher's association.

Supervising teachers in Fond du Lac county were given an increase in salary for the coming year, by the county committee on schools.

FULL DRESS IN WORN IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

By Associated Press
Buenos Aires—Full dress clothes in broad daylight are in accord with the Argentine policy of "diplomatic simplicity" which taboos silk knee breeches for high civilian functionaries, it was noted when John Wallace Riddle, the new American Ambassador, presented his credentials to President Yrigoyen at Casa Rosada. Argentine state etiquette insists that even at morning functions the president and his ministers shall wear full evening dress.

This departure, which would shock Washington or any of the European capitals, is the only alternative Argentine statesmen have found for the cutaway or morning coat and striped trousers worn at daylight affairs in other countries but which are practically everyday togs here.

Give Away Tickets
Admission tickets for the Gollmar Brothers circus were given away to dancers at the pavilion at Waverly Beach Friday night. The prizes were awarded to Miss Ellen Dunn and Paul Bushey, both of Appleton; Miss Esther Burns and Miss Mildred Kelley, both of Oshkosh; John J. Sadler, Kaukauna; Miss Clara Winters, Neenah; Miss Pearl Weber, Menasha. The management planned to give away more tickets Saturday evening. The national convention of the Western Knitting association spent Friday at Waverly.

Sunday Will Be Picnic Day For Churches

Sunday will be a day of picnics, especially among members of Lutheran congregations. Several big events are planned at or near Appleton.

Mount Olive Evangelical Lutheran church will hold its annual outing at Pierce park. The usual Sunday devotional service will be held at the park at 10:30, with a short sermon by the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer. Basket lunches will be served at noon and there will be games in the afternoon, including interschool contests of the Sunday school, and a game between dads and sons. Services will be held at the church in case of rain, and the picnic events in the church basement.

St. Paul and St. Matthew churches will hold no services Sunday on account of the biennial meeting of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin and Other States in session at Weyauwega. There will be a celebration at that place honoring the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Weyauwega Emanuel Lutheran church. A number of Appleton Lutherans plan to share in the festivities.

Several automobile loads of members of branch No. 1, Aid Association for Lutherans, will go to Calumet Harbor, where the Fond du Lac branch is staging a huge outing for all societies in the Lake Winnebago area. About a thousand people are expected.

Still others will go to Black Creek, where the Lutheran church of that village is holding its annual picnic. This event always is attended by a large number of Appleton people.

PARTIES

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buss, 1174 Franklin-st., were surprised by about 25 friends at their home Friday evening in honor of their fifth wedding anniversary. Prizes at cards were won by Miss Minnie Schabow, Mrs. Herman Rehder and William Klaborst. Out of town guests were Misses Linda Giesler and Erna Schmitz of Manitowish.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Walter of Menasha entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Thursday evening in the Gold room of Hotel Appleton. Fourteen guests were present.

A birthday party was given little Kenneth Sieth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sieth, 1206 Oneida-st. Saturday afternoon. About 20 of his playmates and friends were invited to the lawn party.

WEDDINGS

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Martha Verwey of Appleton to Lee G. Ostman of Des Moines, Ia. The marriage took place on April 15 of this year in Iowa and announcement comes as a surprise to a great number of her friends.

Though her home is in Oconto she is very well known in the city, having been an employee in the courthouse for nearly 10 years. For two years she was in the probate court office and for the last seven and a half years she has held the office of deputy clerk of the circuit court, serving on order former clerk A. O. Danielson and Clark Harry A. Shannon. She resigned her office this week. Mrs. Ostman left Saturday morning for Chicago where she will spend a few days before joining her husband, who is a salesman in Des Moines.

MARRIAGE LICENSES
Applications for marriage licenses were filed with Herman J. Kamms, county clerk, Thursday and Friday by the following: Anton Stengle, Black Creek, and Miss Della Daelke, Appleton; Merle M. Cuthbertson, Medina and Miss Erna W. Borchardt, Greenville; Nicholas E. Lummerding and Miss Wilhelmina Fisher, both of Kaukauna; Harry Long and Miss Alice Landers, both of Appleton; Arthur E. Hammond and Miss Florence Shaw, both of Hortonville.

Boy Is Injured
Clarence Jenkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jenkel, was seriously injured last Tuesday when he was caught in a gasoline engine at his home. The lad was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital.

THE STAGE

Sunshine Kiddies are Coming Here

With the appearance at Fischer's Appleton Theatre next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the "Sunshine Kiddies of Melody Lane," an attractions comes to Appleton that is far out of the ordinary and one which has been creating a big hit, in the larger cities throughout the country. It seems fortunate that Appleton theatre goers again going to have the opportunity of seeing an attraction here that usually is seen only in the larger cities.

For four days next week back stage at the Appleton will be a large family, as that is about what this assembly of twelve sprightly young children is, who form the Sunshine Kiddie group.

There are eight families, however, represented by the talented youngsters, and three mothers are in charge as chaperones, stage guardians and all-around governess. There is also a tutress with the apt name of Charlotte Teachman, who was appointed by the Michigan Board of Education to look after the schooling and educational welfare of the youngsters.

The little tots are usually well behaved and know their songs and dance cues like veterans. Each child has from three to six changes to make and there is always a busy time behind the scenes.

Not only is there a busy time behind the scenes but in front there is always an appreciative audience as the Kiddies are constantly pulling surprise stunts. The appearance of the Sunshine Kiddies at Appleton promises to be one of the rarest treats of the year.

SHOEMEN PREPARE FOR EXHIBITS HERE

H. P. Blass, representative of Milwaukee Shoe Manufacturers association, will be in Appleton within the next few days to make definite arrangements with reference to display booths for the state shoe dealers convention. The assembly has been engaged for the manufacturers display and the two center rows of booths, 50 in number, have already been engaged. Milwaukee manufacturers are planning to bring a band and baseball team with them. A game of baseball will be arranged with a local team. J. R. Langenberg, president of Wisconsin Shoe Retailers association, expects to have the official program ready for publication within the next two weeks. The date of the convention is Aug. 8, 9 and 10.

LODGE NEWS

At the meeting of the Pythian Sisters at Castle hall Friday evening, it was decided to discontinue further meetings until September. The date of the annual picnic at George H. Schmidt's cottage at Lake Winnebago was set for next Thursday. Mrs. William Ashmer made her report of the meeting of the Grand Temple at Antigo.

Appleton Women Smoke But They Don't Buy Their Own

Feminine Smokers Don't Want
Friends to Know They Enjoy Weed

That the women in Appleton smoke is beyond question, according to the cigarette dealers; but they do not buy their own supplies. In the west end of town and in the hotels, there is almost no local demand for cigarettes, while in the down town districts the dealers admit that they do sell to women and more often girls just past 18, but claim that they know of no local women who buy enough to indicate that they have the cigarette habit.

In the hotels women who come in from other places to spend the night or a few days buy their cigarettes at the counters and they do not smoke those made especially for women. They buy the popular nationally advertised brands, with and without cork tips. There is a considerable cigarette trade with tourist parties and a considerable percentage of these are bought by the women, whether for their own use or that of the men in the party, the clerks at the counters do not inquire. Traveling women and actresses also buy cigarettes in the hotels and in the down town drug stores.

A large number of the "ladies' cigarettes" are sold to men, which makes the clerks think that the men buy the "weeds" for the girls so that they do not have to admit the habit in a town where everybody knows everybody else.

Almost without exception cigarette dealers are sure that more and more women smoke. A tobacco salesman who happened to be in one store when the reporter was asking questions demonstrated the use of the hairpin as a cigarette holder. The cigarette is slipped through the pin and the two ends of the pin held together at the bottom and presto, no chance for staining the fingers.

That young girls especially like to have a fling at the wickedness of smoking is shown by the number of packages of cigarettes which are bought by young women before a party. It was the opinion of one young man that more married women smoke than unmarried women and his opinion was backed by the fact that an other dealer says that he sells out a number of packages, and now and then a carton, to young married women. He added at once, however, that he really thought that most like by she bought them for her husband, but, well, you never can tell.

The result of questioning dealers in several locations brings out the fact that a comparatively small percentage of the women in Appleton smoke occasionally. It also brought out that if there are habitual women smokers in the city, they have succeeded in getting their smokes without buying them personally at the tobacconists where the men purchase their supplies.

PEA HAULING SEASON IS IN FULL SWING HERE NOW

The pea hauling season has commenced. The two hauling stations that Hortonville Pea Canning company established in the town of Greenville this spring now are receiving loads of peas from the farmers, hauling them and shipping them to the factory in Hortonville. The stations are at Mills Corners and Lempla Corners. The hulls are taken back by the farmers to be used as fodder or fertilizer. Some farmers in the community raised as much as eight acres of peas. After the pea crop is harvested, the fields are usually turned over to grow a crop of millet or late corn.

COUNTY GETS STATE AID FOR ITS BLIND

The first state aid for the county blind was received by Herman J. Kamms, county clerk Tuesday. The amount was $1,925 which represents one-third of what the county spent for the blind last year. According to a new provision the state is to pay back to the county one-third of the money it spent for that purpose.

The law which formerly allowed the blind $100 a year has been so amended as to allow them $150 aid, if their income is more than $50 and less than $250 annually. Those who are both blind and deaf will receive $300 a year or double the amount. If a blind person's income is less than $50 a year, the county and state aid is $300, or $600 if the person is both blind and deaf.

The new provision will go into effect July 1. It will be necessary for the county board in its November meeting to appoint a county blind examiner.

New Auto Enterprise
One of the newest enterprises in Appleton is the Ford Rental Service which operates a "drive it yourself" automobile rental agency on College ave. The company owns ten Ford cars which are loaned to persons who can drive on payment of a fee based either on mileage or time. C. J. Schwab is the manager in charge.

DIEDERICH IS IN SHAPE TO PITCH AGAINST INDIANS

Kaukauna Will Present Its Usual Lineup in Game With Oshkosh

Kaukauna—Diederich will leave for the Electric City baseball team against the Oshkosh club Sunday afternoon on the local ball grounds. The pitcher injured his ankle in last Sunday's game and he had a rather hard time of it for a few days but will be in shape again for the battle. Davey, as usual, will work on the receiving end and the rest of the lineup will be the same as in the previous game. Dick Crutcher, who came to this league with a reputation as quite a pitcher will work on the mound for the Indians. Repairs on the local grandstand are being finished with all possible speed. The stand will be in shape to hold a crowd even though it may not be entirely completed. The money realized at the booster game at Appleton Thursday afternoon is being used to good advantage. Kaukauna is not lacking in supporting fans this season. The fact that people from Sherwood, Darby, Dundas, and other neighboring country towns are behind the team was shown shortly after the storm when innumerable telephone calls came in from those places with inquiries regarding a baseball game. Arrangements are being made for an exhibition game next Saturday on local park with the Illinois Giants, a colored team.

Social Items
Kaukauna—Candidates will receive the D. J. degree at a special meeting of the local chapter of the Order of DeMolay at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in Masonic hall. Other business will be transacted. Children's day will be celebrated in Reformed church at 10:15 Sunday morning. Sunday school will be held at 9 o'clock and a program will be given during the regular church service period. Special music will be rendered by the junior choir and the church orchestra. A meeting of Kaukauna Council Knights of Columbus will be held Monday evening in K. C. hall. It will be the last meeting of the year before the summer vacation. The Rev. Father Van Nistelrooy of Kimberly is expected to give a talk on his experiences in Europe. Lunch will be served. The Knights of Columbus will approach holy communion at 8 o'clock Sunday morning in St. Mary church. Members will meet at the church at 7:45.

FAREWELL PARTY HELD FOR MAN GOING WEST

HOWARD TO BE ON FIRING LINE FOR APPLETON SUNDAY

STRONG SQUAD WILL FACE BAYS HERE SUNDAY

Valley League Leaders Will Make First Appearance Here This Season

Earl Howard, the speed merchant from Kenosha who stood the Kaukaun sluggers on their heads last Sunday, will be on the firing line for Appleton tomorrow when the local crew lines up against Bobby Lynch's Green Bay aggregation which is making its first appearance at the local park. Howard, a Friday afternoon that he would be on the job and immediately all pitching worries were ended. If he is in as good condition tomorrow as he was last Sunday Lynch's men will have to step some to get away with the bacon.

The local crew will line up pretty much as they did a week ago. The only exception will be in rightfield where Manager Rogers will work in place of Rube Noble who is unable to be here. Priebe will cover leftfield and Luedtke is scheduled to play in center. Much is expected of Priebe. He will be over his nervousness by next Sunday and should be able to do considerable execution with his war club. Priebe was among the leading sluggers last year.

Appleton has about as strong an infield as there is in the valley league with Britz working at first base, Goodman at second, Bergerino at short and Durain in the hot corner. All of them are handy with the bludgeon, especially Bergerino and Durain. Bergerino has busted the ball over the fence in two successive games and with fans pulling hard for him he likely will try to repeat against Kinney.

Short will do the catching, according to present plans. He is good for a hit almost every game and knows how to play the backstop position.

Kinney, one whom Lynch is pinning his hopes, is sort of an erratic fellow. When he is good he is mighty good but when he blows he looks like a sandlotter. If he is in form the home gang will have plenty of trouble with his benders. It is reported that the Merrill team is after Catcher Thornton of Green Bay squad. Thornton is a good catcher but only fair as a hitter. Williams, J. Reik and Wilson constitute the Bay wrecking crew. They have broken up more than one ball game with their clubs.

COUNTY LEAGUE NEARING END OF ITS FIRST SEASON

Directors All Set For Starting Second Pennant Chase on July 23

Slight changes will be made in the schedule for the second half of the Outagamie County baseball league schedule, starting July 23, it was decided at a meeting of the league directors in the office of the Post-Crescent Friday evening. The schedule is to be prepared by the league president and submitted to the directors for their approval. It is planned to arrange the schedule so that Dale and Hortonville do not play on their home diamonds on the same Sundays because they draw largely from the same fans. No games will be played in Appleton on Sundays that the Valley league team plays at home.

The Spaulding baseball has been adopted as the official ball for the second half of the season. Several of the towns found it necessary to start their games earlier in the afternoon and the following starting times were adopted: Games at Dale, 2 o'clock; at Hortonville at 2 o'clock at Appleton, Kimberly, Freedom and Black Creek, 2:30.

Freedom and Dale reached an agreement to play off the game scheduled for a week ago last Sunday but called off because Freedom could not reach Dale. On Saturday, July 15, the game will be played at Dale. Kimberly and Black Creek might play off their postponed game on July 4.

The first half of the season will end with the games of July 16. All teams will start on an even basis the following Sunday. The winner of the first half of the season will play the winner of the second half to determine the county championship.

All the teams report growing interest in league games. Attendance has been large at every game and the crowd is becoming larger as the season grows older.

St. Louis Cardinals' Second Baseman Gets Four Hits In Four Times Up

St. Louis—Failure of the Cardinals to take advantage of their hit resulted in the Chicago team romping off with a victory, 5 to 2, here on Friday. Hornsby got four hits in four trips to the plate. Score: Chicago 5, St. Louis 2.

PHILIPS WIN FROM BRAVES
Philadelphia—Rappe's single scoring Leslie in the tenth inning, on Friday gave Philadelphia a 10 to 9 victory over Boston. Six home runs were made in the contest, five of them by the locals, who entered the ninth inning with a five run lead. Boeckel, besides a home run, sent the game into extra innings by a triple with the bases filled. Score: Philadelphia 10, Boston 9.

KEARNS AGREES TO BOUT WITH WILLS
Dempsey and Harry Wills Just As Good As Matched—Settle Time and Place

New York—Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills are just about as good as matched to fight for the heavyweight championship of the world. The only thing left to settle is the time and place.

The obstacle of the exorbitant demands of Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager has been practically removed. The reluctance of Promoter Tex Rickard to tackle such proposition as a mixed bout for the championship has been removed.

Kearns and Rickard were together Thursday afternoon for two hours and those difficulties were thrashed out. Rickard is ready to promote the fight and Dempsey is ready to fight. Harry Wills has been ready for a long time. Kearns' acceptance of Wills' chal-

MAJORS HAMMER PARK FENCES WITH HOMERUN BARRAGE

Fourteen Circuit Wallops Feature Friday Games—Johnston Scores Shutout

Chicago—Another home run barrage has been laid down in the major leagues.

Fourteen circuit wallops were recorded Friday, five going to American league men and the other to the Nationals.

The Phillies, defeating Boston 10 to 9 in the tenth, were helped by five home runs, two of them being hit by Fletcher, the others by Cy Williams, C. Walker and Lee. Boeckel hit one for the Braves.

Zack Wheat of the Brooklyn, counted only one run for his team against the Giants with a homer. Fourply swats were made by Stengel and Earl Smith of the Champions who won 9 to 1.

Heilman of Detroit, helping his team to defeat the Browns for the second straight, 10 to 6, knocked his twelfth homer of the season and Collins, the St. Louis catcher also connected for one.

Harry Hooper's homer in the tenth carried a 6 to 5 victory for the White Sox over Cleveland. Shesly, the Sox first sacker gathered another.

Goebel, Washington right fielder, got a home for one of the three runs of the Senators. Incidentally Walter Johnson shut out the MacKenzie 3 to 0. It was his ninety-sixth shut out game of his career.

Carl Mays was named in the seventh against the Red Sox, and the Yanks dropped another game, 5 to 4.

The Cardinals dropped a hard hitting game to the Cubs 5 to 2, while Rogers Hornsby had a perfect day at bat, four hits in four attempts.

The Reds, taking advantage of loose fielding by the Pirates, won 6 to 2.

WEST END MERCHANTS PLAY AT APPLE CREEK
The West End Merchants' baseball team goes to Apple Creek Sunday to meet the team that defeated the St. Aloysius Young Men's Society team last Sunday. The business men have a strong aggregation and expect to prove their strength against Apple Creek.

The Sherman Place Cardinals, one of the many fast amateur teams of Appleton, will play the Menasha Falcons at Jones Park Sunday. Both teams have been going good this season and a hard game is expected.

lunge put the issue squarely before the New York boxing commission. Rickard said, if Kearns officially notifies the board that Dempsey will fight Wills, the commission will be called to answer whether it will permit the match to be held in the state.

If the commission refuses to allow the bout in its jurisdiction, it can not then accuse Dempsey of inaction or arbitrarily confiscate his title without appearing ludicrous.

PHILIPS WIN FROM BRAVES
Philadelphia—Rappe's single scoring Leslie in the tenth inning, on Friday gave Philadelphia a 10 to 9 victory over Boston. Six home runs were made in the contest, five of them by the locals, who entered the ninth inning with a five run lead. Boeckel, besides a home run, sent the game into extra innings by a triple with the bases filled. Score: Philadelphia 10, Boston 9.

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

Shift For Batter's Style
By Billy Evans

It is impossible to lay down any definite lines as to where a second baseman should play. His position is determined by existing conditions.

By existing conditions, I mean the type of batter, whether he is a left or right-field hitter; also the style of delivery used by your pitcher, whether he is a fast-ball pitcher or one who mixes them up; also whether the batsman is known as a hard hitter or one who chops the ball. The speed of the batter also must be given consideration.

With a hard hitter up, possessing only ordinary speed on the bases, it is always advisable to play deep.

With a chop hitter, known to be very fast, it is always wise to play in much closer.

With a fast ball pitcher working, a second baseman can afford to play much deeper than with the "mix 'em up" style of pitcher.

GET SHORT FLIES
On a bunted ball, down the first base line, if the first baseman goes in to handle the bunt, the second baseman invariably must be ready to go over to first base to take the throw.

On long hits to left field, good for extra bases, the shortstop should go out to take the relay. On long hits to right the second baseman should go out to handle the relay.

On handling throws from the catcher to prevent a steal of second, it is best to stand slightly to the left of the bag. As the runner slides in and you make the touch, it is always best to have the legs spread widely apart. This eliminates the possibility of being spiked.

COUNTY TEAMS TO PLAY FIFTH GAMES OF SEASON SUNDAY

Interlakes Go To Black Creek—Kimberly Plays Dale—Freedom at Hortonville

The race is on again! Teams of the Outagamie County baseball league are priming for Sunday's games. There are only four more games to be played in the first half of the season after which the teams will start on an even basis again.

So far Kimberly has had matters all its own way, having won all of the five games played. It is the only team in the league with a perfect record. Kimberly plays at Dale Sunday and according to dope will have to muster all its strength to come out of that contest with an unspotted record. Dale defeated the second place Hortonville team by 1 to 0 count last Sunday. Hortonville was able to collect only five hits off Piecheck. If the Dale pitcher is in good trim the Kimberly heavy hitters will have a task on their hands.

The Freedom team will journey to Hortonville to match its strength with the team that is but a half game ahead of it. Hortonville is holding second place in the standings while Freedom is third.

Freedom succeeded in downing Black Creek in an eleven inning tussle last Sunday so will go to Hortonville all set for another win.

The two league trailers, Black Creek and the Appleton Interlakes, will fight it out at Black Creek. Gregory's Pulp Makers have been going bad in the race so far in spite of all that could be done. Several important changes have been made in the lineup which should serve to materially strengthen the team. Hard and consistent practice has done much to develop the new lineup and the Interlakes are going to the Creek determined to get off the bottom rung of the long ladder.

Chicago—Burdette Ford of the University of Chicago defeated Rial E. Rolfe of Illinois for the individual golf championship of the Western conference.

Covington, Ky.—Billy Miske knocked out Homer Smith in the first minute of their scheduled 12 round bout.

INDIANS TRIMMED IN 10th
Chicago—Harry Hooper's home run smash to deep center on Friday ended a ten inning battle, Chicago defeating Cleveland 6 to 5. The game was a nip and tuck affair, the Indians tying the count in the ninth after rushing a number of reserves into the game. The visitors used seventeen men, four of whom were pitchers. Score: Cleveland 10, Chicago 6.

CHICAGO 10, CLEVELAND 6
Batteries: Lindsey, Mails, Keefe, Edwards, and O'Neill, Nunkner; Schupp, Robertson and Shaik.

Detroit—Detroit batted Bayne and Kolp hard on Friday and defeated St. Louis for the second straight time. The score was 10 to 6. Oldham was hit freely, but was effective in the punches and received good support. Heilmann hit his twelfth home run of the season in the eighth inning. Score: St. Louis 6, Detroit 10.

ATHLETICS SHUT OUT
Washington, D. C.—Washington defeated Philadelphia 3 to 0 on Friday in a pitching duel between Johnson and Heimach. Only two singles were yielded by the latter until the eighth, when Goebel hit over Miller's head for a home run. Piecheck walked, reached second on Bluege's sacrifice and scored on a solid single to center by Johnson who took an extra base on Miller's fumble and scored on a single to center by Judge. It was Johnson's second successful shutout. Score: Philadelphia 0, Washington 3.

BOOK 1: THE ROSE
CHAPTER I

He was born with a gift of laughter and a sense that the world was mad. And that was all his patrimony. His very paternity was obscure, although the village of Gavrilac had long since dispelled the cloud that hung about it. Those simple Brittany folk were not so simple as to be deceived by a pretended relationship which did not even possess the virtue of originality. When a nobleman announces himself the godfather of an infant fetched no man knew whence, and thereafter cares for the lad's rearing and education for the most unsophisticated of country folk perfectly understand the situation. And so the good people of Gavrilac permitted themselves no illusions on the score of the real relationship between Andre-Louis Moreau—as the lad had been named—and Quintin de Kercadiou, Lord of Gavrilac.

Andre-Louis had made the most of his opportunities. You beheld him at the age of four-and-twenty stuffed with learning enough to produce an intellectual indigestion in an ordinary mind.

In body he was a slight wisp of a fellow, scarcely above middle height, with a lean, astute countenance, prominent nose, and cheek-bones, and with lank, black hair that reached almost to his shoulders. His mouth was long, thin-lipped, and humorous. He was only just redeemed from ugliness by the splendor of a pair of ever-questing, luminous eyes, so dark as to be almost black. Of the whimsical quality of his mind and the rare gift of graceful expression, his writings afforded us very ample evidence. Of his gift of orastory he had already achieved a certain fame for it in the Literary Chambers of Rennes—one of those clubs in which the intellectual youth of France foregathered to study and discuss the new philosophies that were permeating social life. But the fame he had acquired there was hardly enviable. He was too impish, too caustic, too much disposed to thought his colleagues to ridicule their sublimest theories for the regeneration of mankind. Himself he protested that he merely held them up to the mirror of truth, and that it was not his fault if when reflected there they looked ridiculous.

All that he achieved by this was to exacerbate, and his expulsion from a society grown mistrustful of him must have already followed but for his friend, Philippe de Vilmorin, a divinity student of Rennes, who himself was one of the most popular members of the Literary Chamber.

Coming to Gavrilac on a November morning, Philippe found in that sleepy Breton village matter to quicken his already lively indignation. A peasant, named Mabey, had been shot dead that morning by a gamekeeper of the Marquis de La Tour d'Azyr. The unfortunate fellow had been caught in the act of taking a pheasant from a snare, and the gamekeeper had acted under explicit orders from his master.

Infuriated by an act of tyranny so absolute and merciless, M. de Vilmorin proposed to lay the matter before the Marquis de Gavrilac, and Vilmorin hoped to move the Lord of Gavrilac to demand at least some measure of reparation for the widow and the three orphans which that brutal deed had made.

But because Andre-Louis was Philippe's dearest friend, the young seminarist sought him out in the first instance. He found him at breakfast and after embracing him, deafened him with his denunciation of M. de La Tour d'Azyr.

"You speak as if the thing had not surprised you," his friend reproached him. "I propose to go to your godfather, M. de Kercadiou. I shall appeal to him for justice."

"Against M. de La Tour d'Azyr?"

"I want you to come to M. de Kercadiou with me, and use your influence to obtain justice. I suppose I am asking too much."

"I confess that I have not your big charity, my dear Philippe. I am touched by Mabey's fate. But, having conquered the shock of this news to my emotions, I do not forget that, after all, Mabey was a thief when he met his death."

M. de Vilmorin heaved himself up for his indignation.

"Sometimes I think that you have no heart. With you it is always the law, never equity. You are not likely to be of assistance to me in my interview with M. de Kercadiou."

MEN REFUSE TO GIVE UP WEARING SKIRTS

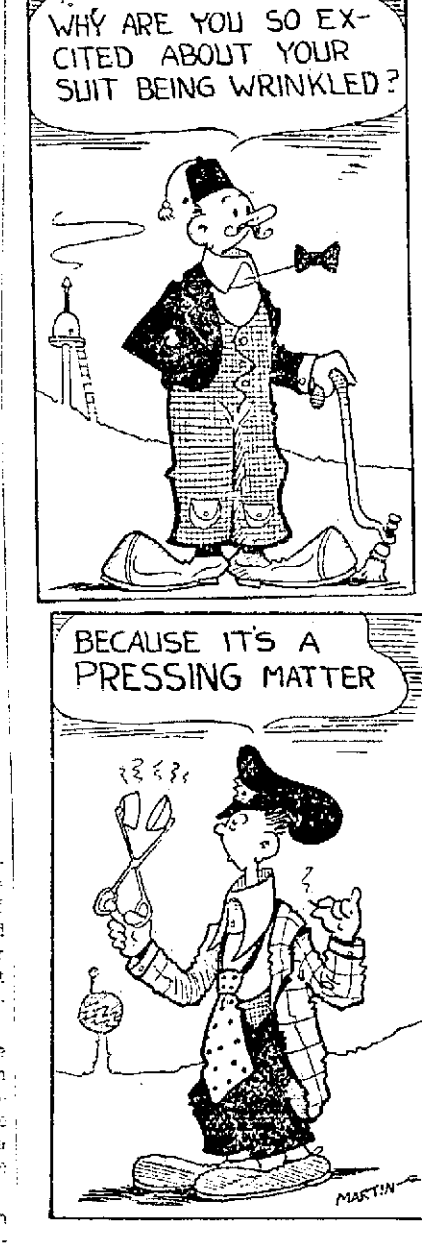

Natives of Transylvania Declare That Trousers Are Unsanitary and Unclean

Presdeal, Transylvania—Since Rumania wrested Transylvania from the Austrians, efforts have been made to get the men to discard their skirts and wear modern masculine attire. But they have resisted all attempts to deprive them of their hand-brothered shirtwaists and lace-trimmed petticoats. They declare that trousers and coats are unsanitary and unbecoming and they have given notice to the Rumanian authorities that they will brook no invasion of their traditional habits of dress.

In this part of the Balkans the raiment of the women is no less novel than that of the men. The well-to-do natives wear garments made of solid gold coils over rich lace embroidery. The coins are handed down to them as heirlooms from generation to generation, the number and weight of the gold pieces being a sure token to the outside world of the degree of opulence of the wearer and an ever-present incentive to the neighboring swains to marry them.

FIGHT ON SOCIAL DISEASE SLOWED UP BY IGNORANCE

Uncle Sam's Medical Experts Urge Careful Teaching of Sex Hygiene

Washington—No single factor affecting the future health of America is of more pressing importance than extending the knowledge and understanding of sex hygiene, declares Dr. Valeria H. Parker, of Uncle Sam's medical staff.

As executive secretary of the Interdepartmental Social Hygiene Board, Dr. Parker finds the biggest obstacle in the way of controlling social disease and combined ignorance of parents and their reluctance to impart to their children even the most elemental facts concerning their physical welfare.

Through Dr. Parker, the board is seeking to induce universities and normal schools to assist in equipping teachers to teach a brand of hygiene which will really prepare for life.

PARENTS NEED WISDOM

"Parents themselves need instruction in sex hygiene as well as their children," she declares.

"Social hygiene, sex facts, social disease and the long list of their after-effects might well be made part of the upper grade school curriculum.

"Parents, of course, are the proper ones to tell the facts of life to their children, but experience has shown that most parents need a sex vocabulary to overcome their reluctance to bring the subject up when the right time comes.

"In school instruction, a teacher specially trained may skillfully impart the knowledge of life forces in such a fashion as to impress but not frighten the children.

"Perhaps special separate classes of boys and girls might be formed in which physiology, with the facts of reproduction and personal hygiene, could be taught the older pupils.

"Only by cleaning out the scourge of social diseases can we be sure of healthy future generations. Ignorance of the dangerous after-effects of these diseases, ignorance of the effect of the active germs, has led to tremendous harm in bringing children into the world. By imparting the facts about life and sex during childhood, much of the disease may be eliminated.

"In any event the blanket of ignorance, prejudice and fear which has surrounded this subject to the detriment of our men and women must be removed.

"Correct imparting of the scientific facts and knowledge of self-mastery are the important factors in solving the problem.

BREEDING CHILDREN

"We calmly discuss horse breeding in our newspapers. Why not the more important question of child-breeding and the creation of human life?

"Important as is the suppression of vice and the prevention of delinquency, the education of youth so that it will not start the wrong path is of greater importance.

"That education today is neglected. The public should be awakened to its need.

"Our children must be educated in the importance of clean sex living if we wish to produce a sturdy race of Americans. Tainted blood does not make for strong men and women in the future."

Wins Success Although He Is Sightless

Little Rock, Ark.—Though totally blind since he was 12, Albert R. Clifton is a successful tea, coffee and spice salesman.

He has a territory that includes two-thirds of Arkansas and a large part of Oklahoma. His route covers more than 200 towns. His sales total $60.00 to $75,000 a year.

Clifton finds his way about without a guide. When he gets to a new town, he has a person familiar with the streets describe the "lay of the land" for him.

He writes out bills and duplicates by means of a small typewriter he carries about with him.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

The June bride in Tibet has no tedious period of shopping or social activity.

Her wedding ceremony is simple. The young man makes a proposition of marriage to her parents. If they approve, the whole family repairs to his home where his friends meet and they carouse for three days. This constitutes the wedding.

"For love of a woman and to avenge a friend," This was the cry in the soul of "Scaramouche," a man's man and a woman's hero. Story starts in Post-Crescent today.

Chapter 69 — Jack's Job is Gone

By a Dried

"No, I don't agree," I spoke positively. "It isn't a question of right and wrong. It's what Mr. Barnick thinks. If he wants to give me that money, if he believes he owes me $3000 for keeping those pearls safe—and getting them back to him—even if I didn't guess their value—I'd be a poor business woman to refuse it."

"I can't object, Peggins! You must do what you think best, according to the compact we made when we married. But, mind, I don't say your opinion is correct."

"Jack dear! Think! I can pay off all our debts!"

"Oh, Peggins!" Jack groaned. "I'm having trouble enough without making it worse."

"Am I not trying my best to make it better?" I inquired. "With $3000 I can wipe out all our troubles."

"If it only were as simple as that!" Jack answered. "And then, 'Peggins! Peggins!'"

I perceived for the first time Jack was struggling with more than one mental distress.

"What's the matter, Jack?" He stated his tragedy quite plainly.

"No job! Not after the middle of the month! It isn't unexpected, Peg."

Adventures of the Twins

Eiderdown Mountain

Nancy and Nick bade the Squabbles goodbye and started up the Eiderdown Mountain. It was the middle one of the Seven Mountains.

"My!" said Nancy, looking all around. "It's all blue plush and as soft as a pillow. This will be an easy mountain, Nick."

But no sooner had she spoken than she disappeared. The soft blue surface of the mountain had caved in, like a snowdrift does when you step on it, and closed over the top of Nancy's head.

Nick stood still, not daring to move or breathe scarcely, for fear of going under, too! "Oh!" he whispered. "Oh, ph. goodness!" He clutched the record tightly as though it might save him.

Suddenly the magic paper jumped out of his pocket and spread itself out flat against the record.

Then the red feather pen jumped out of his other pocket and began to write on the paper.

"Turn around and run down the mountain the way you came."

SUNNY VALLEY PUPILS ORGANIZE FARM CLUBS

Pupils of Sunny Valley school show considerable interest in club work. Their teacher, Miss Bubolz, has created interest in the agricultural class with the result that the boys have formed a Boys' Club and girls organized a Tomato club. Officers of the Tomato club are Doris Nelson, president; Mabel Jenke, vice president; Pearl Winters, secretary; Anna Winters, treasurer.

Members of the club besides the officers, are Hazel Wussow, Esther Roff, Alice Schabow and Lucille Wittuhn. Membership buttons and club books have been received. Bulletins from the department of agriculture will be received which will explain the method and care of raising tomatoes.

Meetings are being held every two weeks and the club has been named the Sunshine club with the motto

Learn to Protect the Family Food Supply

Unless the greatest care is taken yeast, molds, and bacteria will find entrance to every kitchen, store room and ice box, and reproduce themselves with incredible rapidity.

Care of food in the home is not only necessary to economical living, but it is also essential to the protection of life itself.

Thus, one of the most important duties of the housewife is the proper handling of the food supply consumed by her family.

The Federal Government has prepared an elaborate illustrated booklet on the care of food in the home, and our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for anyone who sends two cents in stamps for return postage.

Frederic J. Haskin, Director, The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of "Care of Food in the Home."

Household Hints

WHITE AND GOLD

While satin and gold lace is a regal combination seen in many forms on the latest fashion revelations. The fad for all white is second only to that for all black.

GOLD PENCIL

Tiny pencils of gold, enameled in blue or pink, are very acceptable as graduation gifts. Sometimes they are worn on a gold chain but quite as often merely carried in the handbag.

TAFFETA SUITS

Taffeta frocks and suits, trimmed with monkey fur, are the latest Paris importations. These come in red or blue or orange silk.

VIOLETS

A very lovely and distinctive frock is of ponce colored silk, trimmed with violets outlining the surprise cut of the bodice, and orchid silk facing the loose panels at either side.

SPORT COAT

The short coat of bright red, henna or green in flannel, duvetyn or silk, is popular for sports wear. Usually the hat is a soft, simple model of the same material.

SILVER ROSES

Silver roses, lavishly distributed, make very effective decoration on a frock of rose-colored chiffon.

STEAMER PILLOW

For a bride, whose honeymoon trip will take her to Europe, an appropriate gift is a steamer pillow, conveniently packed in a leather bag.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You do not burden others with your confidences and personal problems.

If you have been disappointed in a friend, or have had an unfortunate love affair, you are not eager to tell everybody about it.

You do not tell secrets simply because you have to tell someone, and then expect your confidant to keep what you could not.

WOMAN TOO WEAK TO WALK

Now Works Nine Hours a Day. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength

Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting, and I had been that way for weeks, isow your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well." — Mrs. L. A. GUIMANN, Union Village, Vermont.

This is only one of such letters we are continually publishing showing what Lydia E. Pinkham has done for women. Mrs. Guimann's letter should interest you.

Many women get into a weak, nervous, run down condition because of ailments they often have. Such women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of trouble.

Egg Nog--1922 Style

ROHIBITION has not taken all the zest out of the egg-nog.

While some may demand the pre-Volstead elements that are lacking today, many of us will find the following recipe for a 1922 egg-nog yields a delicious and refreshing as well as nourishing drink.

Beat egg well with sugar. Add lemon juice and continue beating. Add milk and pour from one glass to another several times to mix.

Grate nutmeg over the top and serve at once. A few grains of salt stiff and dry and folded into the first mixture.

Always add a few grains of salt to any drink made of milk.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is DISSONANCE.

It's pronounced—dis-o-nans, with accent on the first syllable.

It means—a mingling of discordant sounds, lack of agreement.

It comes from Latin "dissonantia," which, in turn, comes from "dis," a prefix denoting separation or parting from, reversal, undoing, negation, and "sonare," to sound.

It's used like this—"Father Odenbach, director of St. Ignatius College observatory, describes a method, for the benefit of radio experimenters, of eliminating jazz, which he calls 'one-third dissonance, one-third bad tuning and one-third the heating of drummers gone mad.'"

TRIMMING

Very finely pleated bands are a very popular trimming for printed fabrics. The bands are of plain silk.

Come to Brandt Forest Garden for a real good time. A 5 cent Dance every Sunday Night.

PEOPLE KNOW LITTLE ABOUT WILD ANIMALS

One of the most annoying things to the animal keepers in charge of a menagerie is the surprising ignorance and indifference of the majority of the people toward the beasts and birds of the forest. There are but few zoological collections in this country, and the only way that a majority of the people have to study natural history from real life is upon the occasional visit of some big show.

The management of Gollmar Bros. Circus and Trained Wild Animals, paid a fabulous sum of money for a baby hippopotamus direct to the U. S. Government who conducts the zoo at Washington, D. C. It was named Little Vic. It is a magnificent specimen of the river horse and a most interesting source of study for the student of nature. Very few people can tell whether a hippopotamus is web footed or whether it has teeth. The average person does not know that it is an animal allied to the elephant, that it has a short thick heavy body and short legs, terminated by four toes, has a short tail and that it feeds upon herbage exclusively.

Little Vic already knows his value and he knows that the public is not nearly as well acquainted with him as it pretends to be. When he first joined the circus he seemed annoyed that the pesky, cheap, sick, treacherous monkey attracted more attention than he did. Although he is not shown the attention and homage that are his due, Little Vic has ceased to show disappointment, but lies contentedly in the large tank of water in his cage, and in parade he will make "goose" eyes at the crowd or open his mouth because someone told him to do it.

Little Vic is a jealous little new comer, but he will soon become just like the rest of the animals, contented with his lot.

Gollmar Bros. Circus will be in Appleton on Tuesday June 27 and Little Vic will be led around the hippodrome track as a special feature.

Buy Coal Now

"A BIG COAL SHORTAGE IS COMING"

"Thousands of miners are out on strike. Coal production is less than half of normal and a shortage of many million tons looks probable. Our advice to consumers is to buy now while they can get a selection and delivery."

The first rush for coal comes in early fall. Indications point to a deluge of building at the same time. In that case, railroads will be flooded with requests for cars to ship coal, building materials, fall and winter merchandise and the huge crops. There's an easy way to protect yourself—BUY COAL NOW.

There is a homelike quality about the Dutch Colonial style. It makes a strong and lasting appeal to most American home builders. Variations of it are found from Maine to California. The spacious inclosed porch is an outstanding feature of home here illustrated which otherwise follows closely the accepted pattern upon which Dutch Colonial homes are built.

The grouping of the windows and the breaking of the eaves with a curve to accentuate the entrance adds an interesting and pleasing touch. The compactness of the plan without any unnecessary breaks in the exterior and the absence of meaningless details makes this home economical to build.

The plan calls for wide siding on a wood frame with shingle roof. There is a full basement under the house. This home can be erected on a 30 foot lot. Exterior finish of the home can be changed from wood to any other material if necessary to comply with city fire restricting ordinances.

The open stairway which ascends from the rear of the living room is a decorative addition as well as space saving arrangement. At the rear of the living room a door leads to the rear entry, thus providing easy access to the second floor from the kitchen. The kitchen is well lighted, equipped with built in cupboards and planned to save the housewife both steps and labor. A wide eared opening between hall and living room, hall and dining room gives a long and pleasing vista, which naturally increases the open, sunny effect of the first floor.
